STATE TELECOMMUNICATIONS SYSTEM

The State Telecommunications System (STS) places the State Government, statewide, at your fingertips. This system helps us serve the public by assisting us in obtaining information, solving problems, speeding answers and meeting deadlines. When we use the system correctly everyone benefits.

Most of the information you will need to use the STS is contained in this directory. By reading it carefully, following the directions and always writing down the numbers before calling, you will help others and yourself receive the maximum benefits from the system.

It is important to remember that the STS is not a free service. The charges your agency pays depends upon the number of calls the system carries; in other words, if calls increase, the charges will increase accordingly. Therefore, indiscriminate use of the system can result in increased costs to your agency.

STATE TELECOMMUNICATIONS SYSTEM CALLING GUIDE

FROM HELENA:

The following is an alphabetical list of cities and towns in Montana and dialing procedures used in reaching these locations. In addition, all state agency telephone numbers are listed for quick reference. It is imperative the following dialing procedures be used in calling throughout Montana. Improper use of the state telecommunications system will detract from the speed, ease and economics for which the system was designed.

FROM CITIES OTHER THAN HELENA:

When placing calls from STS telephones in cities other than Helena, preface the numbers by the digit "8".
